MURDER VICTIM REPORTED AT PARTY WITH OFFICIALS DISAPPEARANCE EVE

WOMAN REPORTS SHE SAW NURSE FATEFUL NIGHT IN COUNTY SEAT

Accompanied in Automobile By Prominent Man, Sensational Rumor Declares

SCHOOL DIRECTOR PRESENT? 'Oakland Police Inspector' Member of Group, Claim; Mother Again Quizzed

Bessie Ferguson Loren, El Cerrito swamp murder victim, participated in a party at Martinez Thursday night, August 20, and was seen in an automobile with a prominent East Bay official was the sensational report being investigated last night. The report came from an Oakland woman who said she had attended the party.

Were a Contra Costa school director and an "Oakland police inspector" also present at the party? This question was raised by the woman's story.

Undersheriff Veale and Assistant District Attorney Hoey have secured from Mrs. Ferguson what they consider the mothers' final statement, a statement in which she believes she is telling all the facts of which she has knowledge and one in which she told more than she had at any time previously. Although both officials absolutely refuse to make public any of the statements made therein, yet it is believed that Mrs. Ferguson told Veale and Hoey of the slain girl's friendly relations with at least three prominent bay cities men and made further statements considered damaging in the event criminal prosecution follows.

That at least three prominent men were assisting Bessie Ferguson financially the officers are satisfied and this assistance was continuing up to the time of her death they further believe. Both Hoey and Veale positively asserted, however, that they would not resort to "shyster practice" in making any arrests at this time or in calling for a Grand Jury investigation.

MAY QUIT PROBE
Whether the "tule" murder case rightfully belongs in Contra Costa county or whether the case is one for officials of other counties was the subject debated yesterday at a conference participated in by Sheriff R. R. Veale, Undersheriff W. M. Veale and Deputy District Attorney James F. Hoey. It was the announcement.

Giant Expansion Program Awaits Only Expert Data

New construction will begin at once in the Standard Sanitary Manufacturing company's huge program of expansion, which it is now reported, will involve expenditure of nearly $5,000,000.

Launching of the construction work awaits only completion of surveys being made by engineers and factory experts at the plant of the Pacific Plumbing Fixtures company of Richmond, recently merged with the Standard company, a Pittsburg concern.

Most of the mammoth sum reported as set aside for the expansion program will be spent in Richmond, it is said. The completed plant will make this city center of the nation's pottery industry.

Newton W. Stern, head of the Pacific corporation, is to remain as head of the new Sanitary Manufacturing company of California, it is believed. An office building and distributing warehouse may be constructed in Richmond, and new lines of manufacture will be taken up, with probable departure into solid porcelain bathtub production.

The merging of the two big corporations followed negotiations extending over a long period. Three years ago the Standard company asked an Oakland industrial real estate firm to prepare data to determine the feasibility of establishing a branch in California, where 90 per cent of all its materials are obtained.

The Pacific coast field was entered by the Standard when it erected a four-story concrete distributing warehouse and office building in San Francisco. Negotiations were then made with Stern to absorb that corporation.

Oil Fraud Case Set; Gough Files Not Guilty Plea

Following the arraignment of James W. Gough, alleged master-mind of the $3800,000 Goulet oil swindle, in Superior Judge Fred V. Woods' court in Oakland yesterday, it was announced that Gough would face trial in the Alameda County superior court September 14. The other defendants in the alleged bunco game, Edwin H. Reeves and his wife, Franklin R. Davis and C. E. Peacock will also face trial on that day.

Gough, arrested in Santa Cruz last Saturday has entered a plea of not guilty to 12 charges of grand larceny and four charges of violation of the state securities act. He is being held in the Oakland city jail with bail fixed at $102,000.

State Senator Charles Lyons of Los Angeles appeared as attorney for Gough. Lyons attempted to enter a demurrer to the charges made in the indictment. Judge Wood delayed decision on this action.

An attempt to transfer $44,000 deposited in a Los Angeles bank from Gough's name to that of an employee of the alleged bunco king, resulted in his arrest, Earl Warren, district attorney, said today.

Eastbay victims came forward when the grand jury was investigating the alleged swindle, and disclosed that the total amount turned over to Gough and his lieutenants must be near the million mark, it was disclosed.

Tentative plans were made for an Armistice Day dance on November 11. All Eastbay posts will participate in this affair, which will be held in Oakland.

Commander Washabaugh requested to be excused from the next two meetings of the organization as he is planning to go on his vacation early next week. In his absence Senior Vice-Commander Seeger will be in charge. A banquet will be served at the next meeting.

One new member was taken into the post at last night's meeting.

Prison Slaying Jury Urges Stronger Guard

More guards will be placed over "trust" prisoners at San Quentin penitentiary in the future, if a recommendation of the jury in the inquest, conducted last night over the body of Branch Martin Miller, clerk San Quentin prison, is carried out. The inquest was held in the office of Coroner C. F. Donnelly.

The jury evidently believed that Miller's murder would not have occurred had sufficient guards been placed over the six men who escaped, slaying Miller and seriously injuring the only guard over them.

The verdict of the jury at the inquest was:

"We find death was caused by basal fracture of the skull due to having been struck over the head with a blunt instrument by one or more of the six escaped convicts from San Quentin prison with criminal intent. We recommend that more guards be placed about prisoners outside the prison walls."

Elmer J. Hobbs and Rivera Smith, both Captains of the Guard at the penitentiary, were the first witnesses called to the stand. They told of the escape of the convicts and the chase across the bay to a point near the northern line of the "Old Shrimp Camp."

Alexander Fagerstrom related the trip across the bay. He told of how the convicts had commandeered his tug launch, threw Miller into the hold forced him to start the engine and steered across the bay.

Captain B. V. Shirley of the local police department recounted the incidents from the time the first call was received at the Richmond station until the convicts were taken back to the prison.

Shirley stated that it was he who called Dr. W. S. Lucas to attend Miller while he was yet on the Fagerstrom's launch.

Dr. Lucas touched more closely on the death of Miller. According to him, when Miller was removed from the launch he was in a dangerous condition. He was immediately removed to a local hospital where it was found he had a fracture of the skull. He died about six hours later.

Orinda News Items

Casa de Verano opened up in full regalia of the Dons of Peralta, on Saturday last. The decorations were splendid. Foras, hiding subdued lights from the ceiling, produced a romantic touch. Dark eyed senoritas taking the guest's orders and serving the delightful goddies so daintily prepared, makes one know that Orinda is fortunate in having such people as Mr. and Mrs. Miller and their charming daughter in charge of Casa de Verano. The new tea room was well patronized through the day and the outlook for business is fine.

Mr. and Mrs. John Atthowse spent Sunday at the home of Capt. and Mrs. Oakley at Orinda Park. Mr. Atthowse is connected with the Berkeley Transportation Company.

Mr. John Boyle, of Richmond, spent Thursday in Orinda.

Orinda is forming a community singing chorus, as we have many talented members here. They are holding regularly. On September 1st there will be several new songs presented by their composers. Mrs. Timothy Kendall, Mrs. Fieken and Miss Woodin having each composed a song proclaiming the beauties and joys of Orinda, which will be sung by the Community Chorus at this first assembly.

The Orinda golf grounds opened up August 29th with appropriate ceremonies and many gayeties. The day was in harmony with the occasion, and everyone enjoyed the beautiful grounds. After the opening game the guests returned to the Country Club and prepared for the dinner dance. The ladies were gorgeously gowned and made the dining room appear like a lovely flower garden. A delightful dinner was served. The dining room was a wonderful power of colors. Lights dotting through the grounds and reflecting on the lake and swimming pool surrounded by

Quart of Water Cleans Kidneys

No man or woman can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Eating too much rich food creates acids, which excite the kidneys. They become overworked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood. Then we get sick. Rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness and urinary disorders often come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys, or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding begin drinking a quart of water each day, also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, and in a few days your kidneys may act fine.

This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for years to flush and stimulate the acids in the system, so they no longer cause irritation, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to help keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure, thereby often avoiding serious kidney complications. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

Woman Reports She Saw Nurse

ced conclusion of the leading figures in the investigation that unless further evidence is unearthed or sufficient proof obtained to show the crime to have been committed in Contra Costa they will turn the entire matter over to the Alameda and San Francisco county authorities and "wash their hands" of the entire matter.

The only move therefore on Tuesday was to institute a thorough search of all cabins in the vicinity of El Cerrito and along the bay shore as far north as San Pablo in the hope of discovering some traces of a crime. If nothing develops the local authorities are of the opinion that the jurisdiction is not theirs and that no further investigation on their part will be in order.

CLASH IS DENIED

Reports published in bay city newspapers of a clash between the sheriff's and district attorney's office was scoffed at and laughed aside as "ridiculous" by Hoey, as he emerged from a private conference Tuesday morning in the Sheriff's office.

Fresh from his vacation trip to Vancouver following his arduous and day-and-night work in the Schwartz case, Sheriff Veale plunged into the latest murder mystery Tuesday morning.

"There are many men who may have known Bessie Ferguson Loren," said Sheriff Veale. "The circumstances are such that it would seem unwarranted to bring their names into the case unless the evidence strongly points to their knowledge of how the woman met her death."

The sheriff said he would devote today to going over the evidence. "I want to first determine," he said, "whether or not the murder was committed in Contra Costa county. I am not anxious to cover any other county than my own. If the killing was done at the swamp or in any other part of the county all the resources of my office will be devoted to running down the perpetrator of the crime."

Bay Point Rail Crossing Guard Is Agreed Upon

The dangerous Bay Point railroad crossing, which has claimed at least a half dozen lives and has been the scene of many serious accidents, is to be guarded by a uniformed traffic officer who will have authority to stop trains of the Santa Fe, Southern Pacific and Sacramento Short Line as well as automobiles.

This conclusion was reached in San Francisco at a conference of officials of the railroad and Contra Costa officers. The traffic officer will be paid by the three railroads and county, each bearing an equal share.

Consideration was given plans for subway and overhead crossing but they were discarded because of cost. It being pointed out that the interest on the county's share of either a subway or overhead crossing would be much greater than its pro rate of maintenance of an officer.

Under the plan mapped out yesterday the guarding officer would have at his command a system of electric Paralleling the fourteen tracks of the three railroads the Bay Point highway crosses the tracks at right angles. Moving trains are sometimes obscured by cars and stations making the crossing probably the most dangerous in the county.

EL CERRITO AND ANNEX CITIZENS TO SCAN MERGER

Joint Conference Stated By Trustees; Street Will Be Opened

EL CERRITO, Sept. 1.—At the meeting of the trustees held this week, all members were present, and considerable business was transacted.

Plans will be made to hold a joint meeting of the people of the Richmond Annex and El Cerrito, at which time the advantages of joining El Cerrito will be presented by an able speaker.

PURCHASE POISON
The trustees ordered that 500 pounds of poison for the U. S. Public Health Service be purchased for the poisoning of squirrels.

STREET IMPROVEMENT
Plans and specifications for the improvement of portions of Willow and Elm streets were approved.

On the recommendation of Chas. Zimmerman, the board ordered a six inch water main on Blake street from Moesser Lane to Pomona avenue and a six inch fire hydrant installed on Kearney street and Fink Lane.

Trustee Zimmerman also reported that the East Bay Water company had installed several thousands feet of pipe and a number of hydrants as part of the fire protection program.

CONTRACT AWARDED
The contract for the improvement of Central avenue was awarded the A. J. Crocker Co. of San Francisco. There was only one bid received on the work.

Engineer Ross L. Calfee, reported that no permit had been granted by the State Highway commission for the street to be constructed under the highway at Hill street.

The trustees instructed the city clerk to write to the commission asking that the permit be granted immediately as the rainy season would soon be here and the city could not complete the work.

Trustee Fred Lutz stated people had complained to him about the Hutchinson Quarry Co. running cars across the streets without flags. The matter was referred to street commissioner, George Conlon.

ing point, at 4:15 this afternoon and less than 275 miles from Honolulu.

With its fuel supply slowly ebbing, the big seaplane was still making a gallant fight when the Aroostook, 1800 miles from San Francisco and 200 miles from Honolulu, reported its passing.

At this point it had broken the world's non-stop air record of 1800 miles made several years ago across the Atlantic from Trepassy Bay, Newfoundland, to the Azores.

Soon after he passed the U. S. S. Farragut, Commander Rodgers flashed the message that his gas was getting low and that the guard ship was needed to keep close touch with the plane as it was impossible to finish the flight.

Hour after hour passed and Captain Stanford E. Moses, flight commander, garbed in a dressing gown, hovered over the radio to watch the progress of the plane as it sped into the west.

As it passed ship after ship in a capable manner Captain Moses declared that success was in sight.

"The flagplane will carry through to the finish," he said.

DERELICTS BEAT SECOND CARMEN

LITTLE KEYS UNABLE TO COPE WITH WINNERS' STYLE

COWBOY DICK AND RED GADBERRY COMBINE FORCES TO MAKE THINGS TOUGH FOR LOSERS IN EVERY INNING OF A LOPSIDED CONTEST

BY A DERELICT

Although putting up a gallant fight to stem the onslaught of the dashing Derelicts, the Little Keys were defeated to the tune of 13 to 7 at First street yesterday.

Never after the third inning was the issue in doubt. Up to that period the score stood one all. But then the slugging Derelicts slammed themselves into a five run lead that held the opposition helpless.

Cowboy Dick Millievilleh started on the mound for the Derelicts. He whiffed man after man for the first five innings, never allowing the Keys to get too close to be uncomfortable. At the fifth interim he began to weaken and the managers called a conference and decided to take no chances. They complimented Dick for his good work and put him on third where he finished the game with a fine brand of ball.

Red Gadberry finished the game and finished it in short order. From the strong to the weak end of the batting order did Gadberry the dumfounded Keys to whiff.

At one stage of the game he showed his complete superiority and mastery over the Keys. The bases were full and none out. Red called the outfielders and the infielders around him and they stood around with their hands on their hips while Red fanned three men with eleven pitched balls.

Two home runs featured the game. One was a sizzling line drive that wound up at the score board. It was knocked by Neylon. Walker got the other—a hot one to lower right that the fielder was not able to retrieve.

Archie Prouse was behind the board for the Derelicts. Besides playing errorless ball as catcher he got four of the 13 runs. He has been signed for the season by the officials of the Derelicts. Clinch was another boy who showed up well on the new team. He proved to be the best first baseman in the league.

By a hard hit triple to right center, Don O'Loan showed himself to be the best hitter for the Little Keys, with the possible exception of Billy Watkins who got on base once, and run resulting.

Hannon former Klamath Falls tosser, made his debut in local baseball circles for the Derelicts yesterday. He made a good showing, getting three hits and a walk. He got three runs and played errorless ball in the field.

finish with plenty to spare."

As the teams look today with the Senators three and one-half games ahead, that prediction has been partly fulfilled. The road trip of the Athletics through the West dimmed their pennant hopes. Two victories in twelve starts constituted the Philadelphia record, the young team crumpling under the strain to finish with six consecutive defeats.

All the clubs of the American league rested yesterday as the western campaign of the eastern teams ended. Two games were played in the National, the pennant rushing Pirates scoring their fourth straight triumph over the Phillies, 10 to 3. Good pitching by Meadows and powerful hitting gave the leaders an advantage of seven and one-half games over the second place Giants.

The Boston Braves, fighting to climb from the senior circuit pit, edged to within two points of seventh place by squaring their series with the Cubs at two games apiece. Bunched hits off Kaufman gave the Hub victory at 5 to 3.

KAPLAN WILL BE FORCED TO MAKE WEIGHT

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—If, as seems likely, Babe Herman and Louis (Kid) Kaplan, will be matched for another bout, this time in New York, it will be interesting to see just how Kaplan can stand making the official limit of the featherweight class.

If Kaplan meets Herman in New York he will have to "make" the weight and then we shall know whether he is able to do this and stand off a man like Herman for the full distance.

Jimmy Kelly, who guides Herman's destinies, is still filling the air with howls that his boy was jobbed to a fare-the-well at Waterbury.

Jimmy "Cavallaro" of New Haven, a city commissioner and time-keeper of fights for the past 15 years, set his watch on the time of the rounds when Kelly protested that they were being shortened.

ADVERSE DECISIONS PROVE MAKINGS OF LEW PALUSO

NUMEROUS FISTIC STARS TO APPEAR BEFORE PUBLIC IN LABOR DAY BOUTS; DEMPSEY TO BE ONE MAIN ATTRACTION IN CURTAIN RAISER

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 1.—Adverse decisions by referees have ruined many a promising boxer, disheartening him before he could get started. But adverse decisions have been the making of Lew Paluso, Leo P. Flynn's great Italian fighter, and have put him in line for something he has long yearned for—a crack at Mike Ballerino, world's junior lightweight champion.

Paluso came West a few weeks ago mainly to add speed to Dave Shade's workouts for the Shade-Schoell fight. And now he's even a greater attraction than Shade out here, a featured attraction in the great Diamond Jubilee Boxing Carnival, to be held here Labor Day at Recreation Park. On that great card, Paluso fights a ten round decision bout with the champion.

Ballerino and Paluso are stars on a boxing card that includes Jack Dempsey in a four round bout. Jack Silver and Tommy Murphy, great lightweight stars of the Pacific Atlantic coasts meet in a ten round affair that is also a bout the fans are discussing.

CANNOT BE FOOLED

The Republican party is determined to give to the country an economical administration and to reduce taxes to as low a point as possible, which of course, is something that everyone desires. The democratic leaders are, however, trying even at this early date to find some way to embarrass the president—one line of attack will be the introducing of bills that would cut revenues to a point where, if passed, would place this country in a position where it would have to issue bonds to meet current expenses. This issuance of such bonds would mean more tax-exempt securities and incidentally more taxes. Their idea is to loudly proclaim to the people that the democratic bills are better than those the republicans advocate—bunk—cheap political bunk—not clever enough to fool one hundred voters in the entire country, but for want of a real live beneficial issue these leaders of the democratic party are seemingly not yet aware that the American people are not to be fooled with cheap political tricks. They demonstrated that at the last election.

DRESS

By MARY MARSHALL

Hats That Match the Frock or Coat Are Given First Choice By Fashion. A HUNDRED years ago it was the edict sent out from fashion centers of Paris that "the color of the hat had to be in contrast to that of the dress." If you wore a pink frock then you were advised by your modiste to wear a black hat, or if your frock was black you were advised to wear a white hat or one of some very light color. Pink satin hats were quite popular, because they contrasted so strongly with dark-colored frocks.

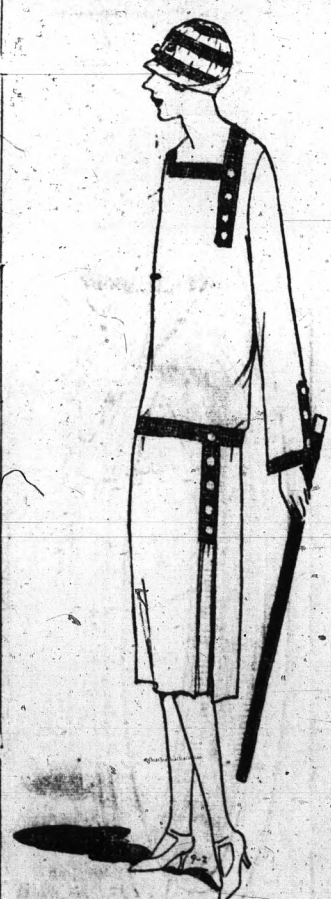

This is interesting just at present because the present edict from Paris is that the hat must absolutely match the frock—or that this must be the rule with the coming of autumn. Quite recently many women following the lead of Parisian fashionables have worn colored frocks, frequently gayly primed crepes with hat, gloves, stockings, shoes and all other accessories of some neutral shade—beige or one of the new light bois de rose shades or that creamy beige shade that the French call nude. It was in this way that despite the variety of colors used in the gay printed material a unity of tone might be secured. But now the rule seems to be that hat and frock must match, though other accessories may be of contrasting color.

This is a fashion not easily followed. For despite the cooperation of fabric manufacturers, dressmakers, milliners, etc., it is frequently difficult to find hats that exactly match the frocks you buy. Even blacks all do no match, as you may have found to your sorrow, and there are a dozen different versions of the new deep, rich blue that some people call cobalt. Veronese green has been apparently agreed upon by dressmakers and milliners for an autumn favorite, but there are more varieties of this shade than the great Venetian painter ever mixed upon his colorful palette.

One way to make sure of having your hat match your frock is to have it made to order from some of the material from which the frock is made. This sort of maneuvering seems to appeal more strongly to the French woman than to the American, who though wishing to dress as well as possible, seldom has sufficient patience to go about it in this manner. Even though she is in the habit of having frocks and ensembles made to order she rather resents the notion of being fitted to a hat. She likes to pick it off one of the standards in the millinery shop, as casually as she would pick roses in a June garden.

School savings deposits are carried by 99.7 per cent of the pupils of Duluth.

WISE AND OTHERWISE

By MARY MARSHALL

DO YOU BELIEVE IN MASCOTS?

WELL, of course you don't believe in mascots—only, you like to wear one or carry one in your handbag, or have on your desk. They are such attractive little things to have around!

Nevertheless, for all your brave words, many of you do believe in the efficacy of mascots. It's another version of the widespread superstition that even twentieth century enlightenment cannot abolish.

And, then, mascots are attractive. The manufacturers see to that, and the shops. There are lucky elephants, and lucky cats—made of jade or crystal in the expensive shops, made of a cheap composition for ten-cent sale. There are bracelets containing a magic hair in a tiny groove, and bracelets from which hang tiny lockets in which some good-luck emblem—a four-leaf clover, for instance—is hidden.

Of course, the fashion in mascots changes, and half the fun of wearing mascots is to follow the fashion therein. Yet some women have the same mascot always. One woman always has a bit of green somewhere about her, because she thinks green her lucky color. She has green handkerchiefs, which she can carry with many of her frocks without spoiling the color scheme, and she has a green slip and a green petticoat which she can wear sometimes, and then most of her frocks, suits, coats and hats have a touch of green some place in their makeup.

Of course, too, there are women who always wear their lucky stone—whatever it may be. Some of them wear their birthstone. Others have a partiality toward some particular stone. One woman thinks opals—usually dubbed unlucky—bring her luck, and wears an opal night and day.

Often, then get in the oven and brown.

Macaroni Fritters:
2 cups of cooked macaroni.
2 eggs, 2 teaspoons parsley.
1-4 cup onions, 1-2 teaspoon salt.
1 cup bread crumbs.
2 teaspoons pimento.
1-4 teaspoon pepper.

Have all the ingredients cold, chop the pimento, parsley and onion. Mix all together and shape into fritters. Fry in deep fat until brown.

Mutton Broth: Four pounds of lean mutton; 3 quarts of cold water, 6 peppercorns, 1 tablespoon salt. Cut the meat into pieces and remove the fat. Put the meat into the kettle with bones, pour cold water on them. Place on a slow fire to boil for a few hours. Strain and remove the fat. Serve with rice or barley.

"THE LIMITED MAIL" with Monte Blue, is a dramatization of this story by Warner Bros. Pictures, Inc.

SYNOPSIS

Bob Wilson, Jim Fowler and Caroline Dale, whom both men love, are attending little Bob Fowler's birthday party when Jane Gordon presents herself. Jim introduces Jane to Caroline as "Bob's girl." A few days before he had seen Jane and Wilson together on a railroad siding. It is a trying situation for Bob, who is uncertain how he can explain the situation to Caroline. He wishes Jane hadn't appeared. He had thought he was through with her forever.

Bob smiled wanly upon the child. Jane glared suspiciously at Bob—was this his baby? The relationships at this party were quite confusing to her, thrown down in it as she was out of hand and without any foreknowledge of what was what, and who was who—except Bob. She had not listened attentively to the introductions; she had merely entered into the swim until she could get the feel of the tide, and make her own deductions.

"That's for Daddy Jim!" Bobby was saying, as the flame of the third candle reluctantly went out under a weakening assault of spent baby breath.

Two fathers! Jane gave up; it was all over her head.

"That's for—Caroline!" gasped Bobby, feeling roughly proud of his daringness in pronouncing the first name of the lovely lady who had filled in so much of his life's broken background of late, as the fourth candle died under a close and frenzied series of short whiffs.

One burning candle remained, and Jane waited curiously as a hush fell upon her table companions. Bobby waited a little while, to regain his breath and compose himself; gone the spirit of playfulness and mischief, and in its place a soft understanding unwonted in one so young. He turned his large eyes slowly from Caroline to Jim, first, then blew out the last candle.

"It's an order," quoted Bob, "for me to take out the Limited Mail tonight."

"That's for Mommie!" he said wistfully.

In the midst of the hallowed silence that ensued, Jane's voice seemed curiously resonant and out of place, like a cash register in a church, as she said, frowning to Caroline,

"Oh, I thought you were his mother!"

Instead of breaking the tension, this stupid comment increased it. Bob again took enough physical interest in matters to judge Jane warningly. Caroline, embarrassed and resentful, stared coolly at Jane; while Jim reached down the table across Bobby's forehead and patted Caroline's head gently, then told Jane with a smile,

"Caroline is only a very dear friend—as yet."

Another clanging and jangling of the doorbell broke into and dispelled the uneasy savor created by Jane's indiscretion. To Bob and Caroline, over and above the other, it came as a blast of additional fear. Their eyes involuntarily met across the table in the instant while the iron echoes of the gong still vibrated within the room; their glances bore a sudden mutual commiseration for fraught nerves and tortured minds. What other blow was Fate about to crack him, Bob wondered bitterly as he pushed back his chair and went into the hall, glad of even a momentary escape of whatever portent.

A whisper from Jane recalled him to the unpleasant unreality of the situation. Caroline had taken Bobby off to get him ready for the high adventure of a trip with his Daddy, and Jim had slipped into the kitchen in his mischievous kindness, to give Bob and Jane an opportunity to be alone.

FAMOUS HUMOR CHARACTERS IN FILM

No two characters of fiction can equal the record of Montague Glass's famous partners, Potash and Perlmutter. These two gentlemen, purveyors of cloaks and suits, have made people laugh in fourteen different languages. Their quaint sayings and their whimsical adventures have brought forth many a hearty American roar, loud German guffaw, polite French titter, sedate British chuckle. The stage plays, dealing with them have been playing for the past ten years in practically every country on the globe. And now, in the movies, they are piling up much more merriment in every corner of the world.

"In Hollywood with Potash and Perlmutter" now playing at the Richmond theatre is the second of these stories to be brought to the screen by Samuel Goldwyn. It is an adaptation of the play "Business Before Pleasure," but instead of leaving its heroes in the cloak and suit trade, it takes them to Hollywood where they try their hands at producing movies.

A stellar cast enacts the picture. Alexander Carr and George Sidney play the principals and others in the cast are Vera Gordon, Betty Blythe and Belle Bennett. It is a First National picture.

Other features on the same program include "Wide Awake," a Lige Conley comedy; "Prizma," a screen magazine.

ACTION CROWDS FAIRBANKS 'DON Q' ROMANCE PHOTOPLAY

The glory that was Spain's now belongs to Douglas Fairbanks who has captured it an dput it into his new photoplay, "Don Q. Son of Zarro" which is the featured attraction announced for its last showing tonight at the California theatre.

Castles in Spain are things to look at, not to dream of in this appealing picture. The background of beautiful settings is gorgeous beyond compare.

The story is the graceful though swift unfolding of the adventures of a young Spaniard who is sent to his motherland from California, there to finish his education.

How he meets and woos a gorgeous senorita; how he captures a bull running rampant in the streets; how he fights a duel with the villain; how he performs astounding feats with a stock whip; how he becomes accused of the murder of a visiting archduke; how he then turns into the mysterious and much-haunted Don Q—these and innumerable other angles furnish a plot of many complicated twists that keys the audience interest to a high pitch.

Other features on the same program include "Topics of the Day" and "Aesop's Fables."

Kidnaping Charge Ends; Girl Is Wife

When S. C. Hannum, attorney for the defense, produced a marriage license showing that Raimundo Jaramillo, of this city, and Virginia Parra, 14, also of Richmond, were married, Justice of the Peace John Roth yesterday dismissed charges of kidnaping against Jaramillo. The license indicated that Virginia swore she was 18 years old when she was married. The ceremony was performed by Judge Tyrell in Oakland.

The young couple still wish to remain together, but the parents object. The girl was placed in the care of Probation Officer Thomas Boyer, and her case will be handled in the juvenile court at Martinez.
